DAY 4 ○ Rome – Witnessing Nature's Fury

Today, you will leave the landlocked beauty of Rome and travel to Campania to visit the scene of one of the most famous catastrophes in the ancient world. It lies in the shadow of the volcanic Mt. The town of Pompeii, Vesuvius once stood as a shining lantern of Roman grandeur on the shores of the Bay of Naples. As your guide will detail, in 79 AD the volcano erupted, buried the town, leaving only ruins behind. The full scale of nature's rage will be yours on this tour, before returning to the comfort and safety of your stay in Rome.

DAY 8 ○ Castellina – Taking a Rural Turn

While the big cities are the perfect place to encounter culture, those who never leave urban areas miss a fundamental aspect of contemporary Italy. Today, things will change in the countryside as we leave Florence and head towards the rustic heart of the Tuscan countryside. Your destination will be the Chianti region of the same name, known for a highly sought-after wine variety. As you head deep into the country, feel free to enjoy the rustic hospitality of Monteriggioni, before finally reaching Castellina, the medieval walls still defending against long-dead enemies.

DAY 9 ○ Castellina - A Tuscan Love Affair

Long before the Romans arrived, Tuscany was full of a farming and pastoral civilization known as the Etruscans. They left an indelible mark on the landscape, and most of the settlements grew up in the villages and towns you see today. This history and much more will be what you will discover in this authentic corner of the country on a day of leisure time. Recommended day trips include visiting the lively town of Siena, which annually hosts one of Italy's most famous festivals, and a meal and wine tasting in the reliable hospitality of San Gimignano.
