

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

PASSPORT AND VISA INFORMATION

Your passport needs to be valid for at least six (6) months after your journey ends, and should have a minimum of one (1) blank visa page for entry and exit stamps.

A tourist visa is required for U.S. and Canadian passport holders for entry into Papua New Guinea. There are currently two options available as outlined below. Buongiorno Travel recommends a visa on arrival.

Visa on Arrival: A tourist visa can be obtained free of charge on arrival at Jacksons International Airport (POM) in Port Moresby (subject to change without notice).

Visa Stamp: A visa stamp in your passport can be obtained by applying through a visa processing service. While there are additional costs involved in using a visa service, this option is available for guests who prefer assistance in the visa process.

Note: If your international air routing takes you through Australia with a layover in excess of eight (8) hours, you will be required to obtain an Electronic Travel Authority (ETA) visa for Australia. To apply for an ETA visa, visit www.eta.immi.gov.au/ETAS3/etas. The current fee is AUD $20 (subject to change without notice) and allows multiple entries for up to 12 months after the date of issuance. Read and follow all instructions carefully to avoid any possible complications on arrival in Australia.

Citizens of other countries should contact the appropriate consular office for entry requirements pertaining to their journey.

VACCINATIONS

A yellow fever vaccination is only required to enter Papua New Guinea if you are arriving from, or have transited through, a yellow fever-endemic area in South America or Africa. The CDC and WHO each provide a current list of all affected countries. If vaccination for yellow fever is necessary, you must carry an International Certificate of Vaccination provided by your physician; you may be denied entry without it. If your physician advises against receiving the vaccination because of your personal medical history, he or she can provide you with the necessary documentation for the country/countries you are visiting.

CASH & CREDIT CARDS

The country has a cash-based economy. Cash transactions must be made in local currency (Kina). Smaller denominations are preferred as many village merchants cannot make change for larger bills. Major credit cards are generally accepted at larger hotels, restaurants and shops that cater to tourists. ATM machines are limited in larger cities and towns, but unavailable in rural areas.

PACKING LIST & BAGGAGE RESTRICTIONS

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

BAGGAGE RESTRICTIONS

On internal air flights within Papua New Guinea, each passenger is limited to 1 piece of checked baggage with a maximum weight of approximately 35 pounds (16 kilograms), plus a small carry-on bag or camera bag.

On flights between some lodges or the 'Sepik Spirit' cruise vessel, each passenger is limited to 1 piece of checked baggage with a maximum weight of approximately 22 pounds (10 kilograms), plus a small carry-on bag or camera bag with a maximum weight allowance of 11 pounds (5 kilograms).

Please use the provided Buongiorno Travel luggage tags, even if your bags already have ID tags. This makes it easier for Buongiorno Travel staff to collect and manage your luggage for you.

PACKING LIST

Comfortable, casual clothing in natural, "breathable" fabrics. Choose versatile styles that can be layered. This will maximize the versatility of your travel wardrobe and best prepare you for both warmer (Coastal) temperatures and cooler (Highland) temperatures. Dark-colored clothing may attract mosquitoes and other unwanted insects, so clothing that is light in color is suggested. Formal clothing is not necessary.

Modest clothing is suggested for touring in Papua New Guinea. Women should be especially careful to dress modestly and avoid clothing that may be considered provocative, including revealing swimsuits, sundresses, or similar apparel.

Short shorts are not commonly worn. You will find that slacks and Bermuda-length shorts are most adaptable to both Coastal and Highland temperatures and provide greater protection from insects and the sun.

OF SPECIAL NOTE: TRAVEL IN PAPUA NEW GUINEA:

GENERAL INFORMATION

A journey to Papua New Guinea offers visitors a chance to immerse themselves in vibrant tribal cultures that have remained unchanged for centuries, while cruising rivers and exploring some of the most remote corners of the globe.

However, contrasts between the expectations of the international traveller and the realities of the destination can pose an interesting and illuminating challenge. When visiting Papua New Guinea, it is essential to pack your patience and good humor as well as your passport.

With this in mind, we would like to bring some key aspects of travel in Papua New Guinea to your attention. We hope that, by setting the proper expectations, the rewards of your cultural experience will outweigh any inconveniences imposed by the country's underdeveloped tourism infrastructure.

CULTURAL INTERACTION

One of Papua New Guinea's greatest attractions is the wide variety of indigenous cultures to be found. We ask that, during visits to local villages, guests be sensitive to local customs and traditions.

ROAD TRAVEL

Vehicles used for touring are 18-20 seater coaches. The vehicles are comfortable, however road conditions are rough and may not be paved. There are frequent pot holes. An inflatable pillow or stadium cushion can help make bumpy roads more comfortable. Women may also want to equip themselves with a supportive sports bra. There are no bathrooms on the vehicles. Comfort breaks will be made during long drives, however facilities are likely to be quite basic by western standards.

FOOT TRAVEL

Sightseeing in Papua New Guinea can be physically challenging. The ground will be uneven in many locations with steep steps, making walking difficult in some areas, particularly to those guests with limited mobility. In general, there are no hand rails to provide assistance. In the Sepik Region, be prepared to navigate muddy embankments when boarding/disembarking rivercraft.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Hotel and lodge facilities in the more remote areas outside of Port Moresby are rustic and may operate on generator power. Buongiorno Travel chooses the best available properties in these regions but accommodations are more comparable to a 2 or 3 star property by western standards. Most properties have no climate control such as heating or air conditioning, though some properties will provide guests with electric blankets. Not all accommodations have hair dryers. Hotel amenities such as soap and shampoo are minimal and as a result we suggest you pack your own.

FOOD

Meals in Papua New Guinea tend to feature meats, fish, vegetables, and tropical fruits served Australian style. At remote properties, special meal requests are not available as the meals are set menus. If vegetarian meals are required, this should be advised to the property manager at the time of check-in.

COMMUNICATION

In some locations there may be no cell phone, WI-FI or internet service available. When available, connections can be very slow and/or intermittent.
